Backers of Measure Confident House Will Override Coolidge Veto

SOLONS READY FOR BITTER STRUGGLE

President Facing Bitter Attack As Plan to Aid Veterans Rejected

WASHINGTON, May 16. - The outcome of the President's clash over the bonus depends upon how his veto message affects some wavering members of the Senate.

The House will sweep the veto aside in a vote tomorrow and the Senate will take up the question early next week. Today both bonus advocates and administration leaders were concentrating pressure upon a little group of undecided Senators whose votes are needed to override the veto, if it is to be over-

DEMOCRATS SEEKING KEYNOTER

First Test of Strength May Be Made As Arrangements Body Meets

(By United Press Leased Wire) WASHINGTON, May 16 .- The first test of relative strength of Ten Cases of High Class the various Democratic presidential aspirants may occur in the selection of a nominee for temporary chairman and keynoter of the national convention. The committee on arrangements is to meet in New York tomorrow for this purpose.

William G. McAdoo and his campaign manager, David Ladd Rockwell, have gone to New York in person to try to get a McAdoo man chosen.

While the temporary chairmanship is not vital to the success of any candidate—in fact, has virtually nothing to do with nevertheless the matter of selection is of considerable strategic psychological importance howing who has the ascendancy at the moment.

Senator Pat Harrison of Mis sissippi and Representative Finis Garrett of Tennessee, Democratic floor leader in the house, are most spoken of here as those between whom the choice lies. Harrison is well liked as a possible 'harmony" selection, for while he s regarded as favoring McAdoo, he is also acceptable to the Al Smith forces and would not be opposed to the Underwood group. Garrett is regarded by some his friends as a possibility for he presidential nomination in the event of a tight deadlock in the convention. Homer Cummings of

Speaker Honored at Club Section Meeting

Closing a delightful year's work countries, the fourth Travel section of Ebell held its last meeting for the season yesterday affernoon at the beautiful home of Mrs. Ernest Madden, 1109 North Broadway. Each member was permitted guest for the afternoon.

The feature of the meeting was pean countries. an interesting and instructive informal talk by Miss Hester Robinson of Buenos Aires, the Argentine republic, who left here today on her long return journey to her 'wild" country, as she calls it.

Miss Robinson conducted her hearers by easy stages to Buenos Aires, stopping at various cities along the way, to point out interesting features. She described the beautiful city of Rio de Janeiro and Santos, where she took many side trips. She told of a "snake" farm, where the reptiles are used for various medicinal purposes, and a fine hotel, which had to be abandoned, as the shifting sands

As the speaker talked, she passed pictures, which assisted in maktrip more enjoyable. One which evoked much merriment was the style of the bathing suits worn there, and the method of economizing in clothes by wearing much-trimmed pajamas.

Arriving at her destination, Buenos Aires, Miss Robinson relat-ed how she was sent by mistake to the servants' dining room at the hotel where she stopped, as the employes were not used to seeing women going about alone, and took it for granted that she was someone's maid or governess. Profuse apologies resulted when the mistake was ascertained.

The difficulty of finding suitable boarding places and the things given one to eat were interestingly told, also the manner in which love affairs are conducted.

Miss Robinson was paid high tribute by the leader of the section, Dr. Mabel Vance Tremaine. who presented the young woman as a model of determination and

A Special Purchase of Vestees in the Newest Styles

Hand Made Filet, Irish Crochet, Venice, Vals and Orientals

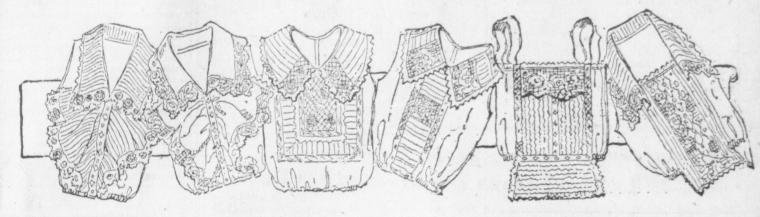

THE vestees are beautiful. They have the smartness, the chic, the artistry that only HAND MADE LACES can give.

In all earnestness we put the word of the Rankin Dry Goods Co., behind the statement that not in the history of this store has any collection of neckwear come to us to be sold at this price equal to these in smartness and value.

There are many more styles than those illustrated below. For example, only three of the Camisole Vestee are shown, while there are as many more styles. Only two Peggy Vestees are pictured, while there are at least six other styles.

Real hand made laces, such as Filets, Irish Crochet, Venice, Valenciennes and Orientals are included. There are ruffled fronts, tiered fronts, little round collared Peggys, camisole types, and many that were made especially for wear with sweaters.

Your choice tomorrow at $2.951

There's a yard and a half of Irish Crochet two inches wide in this jabot style. And there are some in this style of hand Venice made laces. Every one least twice as much.

"Accident after accident resulted," Martin said. "After a year and a half this country was as far bebind as ever in the building of planes for war use."

Martin described his numerous trips to Washington, but he was unable to obtain the government's permission to make war planes.

He told of the construction of Bristol planes and the death of four men in the fall of the first two planes that were delivered by the manufacturers.

"Six million dollars were spent story of his many trials and troubles in connection with the industry from that time before the war when planes were in their infancy, through the period of the war until today, Glenn H. Martin, former Santa Ana boy and now one we began."

There has been no improvement in railroad system in the past fifteen years. We have more of them, but they are the same. The travel of the future must be in the air.

Battleships also have seen their day as the first line of defense. Airplanes would take their place."

If the egg is fresh and the oil Wesson Oil, you are sure of a pure, delicious mayonnaise in almost no time and at a trifling cost. The quickest results are obtained if the oil and egg are not too cold. The ordinary temperature of your kitchen is just right.

Break the egg in a bowl, add about a tablespoon of Wesson Oil and beat vigorously with an egg beater or a fork-until the oil and egg are thoroughly

The more oil you beat into it the thicker your mayonnaise

After your mayonnaise is made, season it. You will find that a half teaspoon of salt, a teaspoon of sugar, a teaspoon of mustard, a generous pinch each of paprika and red pepper and a tablespoon of lemon juice or vinegar is a popular seasoning. Mix the salt, sugar and spices in a cup, add the vinegar or lemon juice, stir until the salt and sugar are dissolved, and pour into the mayonnaise-beating the seasoning in well.

Practical Notes On

S. S. Lesson BY CAL OGBURN

Lesson for May 18 Isaiah 37: 14, 21-23, 29, 33-36 saiah and the Assyrian Crisis.

"Hezekiah received the letter rom the hand of the messengers. and read it."-v. 14.

This letter was an ultimatum from the powerful Sennacharib king of Assyria, who, at the head a great army, had invaded Judah, and, according to his own account, had wrought terrible havoc throughout the little kingdom. The record, found in 1820, at Nineveh, is, in part, as fol-

"As for Hezekiah of Judah, who had not submitted to my yoke, forty-six of his strong cities, together with numberless fortresses and small towns in their neighborhood, I invested and took by means of battering of rams, and the assault of scaling-ladders (or siege-towers), the attack of the foot-soldiers, mines, hills, and axes. I brought out from the midst of them, and counted as spoil 200,150 persons, young and old, male and female; horses, mules, asses, camels, oxen, and sheep without number. "As for himself, I shut him up like a bird in a cage in his royal city of Perusalem. I built a line of forts about him, and whoever came forth from the gate of his city I punished. . . . . . Him, Hezekiah, the fear of my august Lordship cast down . . . . Along with thirty talents of gold and eight hundred talents of silver, he caused to be brought after me precious stones, kassu stones, ushu-wood, boxwood, great pieces of lapis, ivory beds, ivory thrones, elephant hides and tusks, all sorts of things, a huge treasure, and his own daughters, the womenfolk of his palace, men-singers, women-singers, to Nineveh the city of my Lordship; and he despatched his envoy to pay the tribute and to do homage." See 2nd Kings 18:13-16.

Subsequently, with the expecta-tion of Egypt's help, Hezekiah re-belled. 2nd Kings 18:20, 21. It was at this juncture that king Hezekiah received the ultimatum from Sennacharib. The belief is very common, if indeed not practically universal, that to be the head of a nationa king, emperor, or president-is to accupy the place of highest privilege and honor, than which there is nothing to be desired No doubt this was the prevailing opinion throughout Judah concerning Hezekiah. He was a son-a prince-and, when his father Ahaz died he fell heir to the throne. Probably people envied him because of his "good Perhaps they said "He was born with a silver spoon in his mouth." Few indeed are they who see the other side of a ruler's life. Hezekiah had inherited, as a part of his kingdom, no end of trouble. If he had not learned it before, he was being taught in the bitter school of experience that, "Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown."

And this is forever true, though it be only an imaginary or intangible crown, as with our own presidents. It is no easy task being the chief executive of the United States of America. we have but one ex-president, though the term of office is only four years, gives strong emphasis to this fact. BEGIN HERE TODAY

For the purpose of discussing plans for the opening of the Orange county camp of the Y. M. C. A. in the San Bernardino mountains this summer, it was disclosed today, members of the various county camp committees met at the local building last night.

Swimming pools, tennis courts, camp fire sites and a lodge will be built, and each summer boys from the different cities in Orange county will have the privilege of spending a vacation there along with boys from other cities.

How to Get Rid of the Ant

The Ant being the most intelligent of insects, is quick to take advantage when the Scout Ant reports the discovery of food. Like magic, when the news is spread "food ahead"—thousands of Ants will be in foods in your pantry and considerable damage may be done before they are discovered. Talbot's Ant Powder is deadly to the Ant, who knows well enough to stay away when it is near. Should you not ward the Ants off in time and find them in your foodstuffs, sprinkle a little Talbot's Ant Powder around the food and the Ants will quickly leave; also follow the line to where they enter the house and sprinkle with this powder,—in a jiffy this particular band will disappear. Ants come in various bands, therefore while you are ridding yourself of one, the Scout Ant of another may be reporting the good news, and a second band approaching from another direction. Take precaution, sprinkle Talbot's Ant Powder every few days around food and your Ant troubles will be solved. At all dealers, insist on Talbot's.

From the brilliant form that he has shown since the season begun and from the heights to which he has risen in the New York series, Sister's comeback has been complete and it is only to be hoped that it is

There is no question that Sisler has all the baseball public behind him in his game effort. The ova-tion that was given him when he gume and the same fickleness that walked to the bat for the first inspired the Dempsey rooters to roar:: "Look at 'im going," when time in the Yankee stadium was described by veteran baseball writers as the greatest reception that ever was given to any player.

When the fans are so heartily behind a player no reason need be sought for the inspiration that Sisler's personality, his courage and his playing brilliance have created among his players.

A PUZZLE A DAY

A man, a woman and a boy, weigning 195, 105 and 90 pounds, respectively, were at the top of a high wall. Their only means of escape was a rope which passed over a pulley, with a basket at each end, and arranged so that when one basket was at the top of the wall, the other was at the bottom. Naturally, if one basket were more heavily loaded than the other, the heavier would descend, but if the excess were more than 15 pounds, the descent would be too rapid. On top of the wall was a leaden of 75 pounds, which could be used as a counter-balance. How did they manage to reach the

GET RID OF THE JOGS

Steps have been taken by the Board of Education and the board of City Trustees for lessening the danger at the jogs in South Ross and South Parton streets at their intersections with West Camille street will meet with the approval of many hundreds of motorists who know these jogs. The Board of Education will deed the city strips at its corners so that the angles can be straightened.

There are a number of jogs that need similar treatment. Anything that the authorities can do to lessen the hazards at such corners as First and Birch streets and East Tenth and Bush streets ought to be done. In the meantime the policy of the City Planning commission and the city trustees of requiring new subdivisions to avoid jogs is to be commended. A subdivider, to gain a few dollars for himself, may figure out his lots without regard to how his map fits into the existing map of the city. That is, he may into the existing map of the city. That is, he may Calvin Coolidge, at the circus, doubtless harked figure it out regardless of the rest of the city if he back, in memory, to the days of boyhood, when he established is likely to last a long, long time, and it many human beings.

THE WINNING OF PRIZES

The man who suggested the winning name for the new magazine, "Liberty," won $20,000. That fact in itself is intriguing. It isn't every day that a citizen gets $20,000 for one word. Of interest, too, is the vast amount of competition the winner was up against. There were some 1,395,000 suggestions to national political conventions in 1928. San Francisco choose from, and the contestants ran the social gammania.

The most interesting fact, however, to a commercial generation, is the process by which Mr. Elwell attained his goal. He simply made a business of it, and systematized that business far beyond the wont of ordinary business men. In this competition he was not be required. Californians should be a unit in this. content with sifting a few likely-looking offerings, in his own head, and submitting what seemed to be the best of them. He sent in 3,017 names for the maga-

The more you ponder that fact, the more the thing will grow on you. Three thousand and seventeen suggestions for one prize! What a Herculean labor! What careful elaboration and systematization must have been required to think up so many suggestions and record them accurately without repetition! Yet the reward was big enough to pay for the trouble.

It is plain to see that a new industry is developing in this country. It is the industry of contesting for prizes offered by newspapers, magazines and public and private organizations. Somebody or other is always wanting a name or a slogan or a solution, that they should be removed. You get the job done and prizes rise steadily in value. The Elwood method is contagious. We shall soon have a lot of professionals making a good living at it.

Fact is, a resident of Tustin has made many thousands of dollars by winning of prizes for recipes, slogans, titles, poems and designs. She has demonstrated that there is money in these contests when filters, get so full of waste matter, and also get so they are won-and somebody does win.

ANOTHER DISARMAMENT MEETING

Disarmament comes prominently into the news again, with the suggestion from Premier MacDonald that the British government would welcome an invitation from the United States to a new conference for the limitation of naval armament.

The subject has been taken up already in Parliament, with the introduction of a motion for open discussion in the near future. The motion expresses a belief "that the time has arrived for another conference of disarmament to deal with all surface and submersible craft of 10,000 tons displacement and less, pendix and some gall stones perhaps are removed and aircraft and other craft outside the scope of the You think you are all squared away for the rest of Washington conference."

and France on better terms with England, there may be hope of all-round agreement or more thorough limitation, for the double purpose of saving money to all the powers and avoiding the fear and ill feeling naturally aroused by competitive building.

It happens that the branches of armament suggested for limitation are those in which the American navy is now urging considerable new construction. It is possible that some of the recent American agitation for more submarines, light cruisers, etc., was intended for this very purpose-to put the other powers in a mood for further disarmament, and thus make the new building unnecessary.

President at the Circus

Pasadena Star-News President Coolidge at the circus! That chief magistrate of the greatest Nation under the sun sitting out under the big canvas, watching the antics the clowns, the thrilling acrobatic feats, the trained animals, and taking in all the blare, glare and fantastic features of the circus. It is a democratic spectacle, indeed. It brings the President to a common level, for the occasion, with the poorest and humblest patrons of the tented show. It touches a common chord which makes all Americans kin.

Letting Fancy Roam

Stockton Independent Anticipation and vicarious pleasures fill up large part of the lives of the poor and unfort unate—many of the joys and good fortune they long for are never realized and they enjoy them only through the printed word or the pictured story.

At the recent convention of librarians, Miss Provines of the Sacramento Library, brought out the interesting fact that prisoners preferred books of half a century the Masonic order has had a large travel to any other reading. Within the confines of a narrow cell, in fancy the prisoner roams the face f the world. It has often been claimed that women who do the most menial, physical work select for reading stories that deal with kings and queens and
